

48 HOUR Mediator Training

MARQUETTE ALGER
RESOLUTION SERVICE

The path to productive dispute resolution

Learn to Mediate! - online

Do you like helping people? Do you want to help promote peaceful ways to resolve conflict in your community? Can you listen to others without passing judgment?

Your community needs you.

When: May 6, 7, 13, 14, 20, and 21

8:30 am - 5:00 pm each day
Via Zoom with adequate breaks
*Best zoom experience of your life!

Where: Marquette, MI

Trainers: Brian Pappas

Cost: $100*

* This significantly reduced fee is possible due to local grants and applies to participants who agree to serve as volunteer mediators. Class size is limited.

3 reasons to register today...

- ✓ Volunteer: Be a part of your community and help others resolve their differences.
- ✓ Professional Development: Learn the essential mediation process and conflict resolution techniques that transfer to many work and personal situations.
- ✓ Personal Development: Learn valuable communication and active listening skills.

This Michigan State Court Administrative Office approved Domestic Relations mediator training program (MCR 3.216) is designed to teach participants the skills necessary to serve as mediators in facilitating the resolution of both family and community disputes. Through a combination of role plays, demonstrations, large group discussions, and activities, this highly interactive training will take participants through the entire mediation process. The training includes a full day dedicated to Domestic Violence issues, screening and protocol.

Complete your online application at marsmediation.org

Questions:

906.226.8600 or

director@marsmediation.org

for more information